Music Therapy team were Newquay Strings, who opened the event, performing an excellent version of 'Money Money Money' followed by Bude Junior School Choir who sang their hearts out with a great rendition of 'I Believe and I Can See Clearly Now'. Newquay Stringband performed 'Walking On Sunshine and Where is the Boogie' and led the delighted audience clapping along. There were four excellent keyboard solos from young musicians Rosie Stephens and Grace Duffman from Bodmin, and Ryan Meadows and Zeb Strudwick from Newquay. Dazzling Brass from Bodmin, led by their musical director Mike Brown, performed a nice perfect melody of pieces by Cornish composer David Frost. The 35-strong Choir of Trewithen School performed a beautiful arrangement of 'The Holy Man' from the Sound of Music with a perfect counter melody. To end the show, Discovery Junior and Stapeh Downcombe Schools led by Keith Marshall, gave a jaw-dropping demonstration of Airline Drumming which certainly raised the roof of the cave.

The organisers of the event, Lily Johns, Assistant MC Catherine and Jill Stear from Cornwall Learning Music, would like to thank all those involved with the show, commenting that they were extremely impressed with the professionalism of the talented young performers who raised £188.87 for Cornwall Music Therapy Trust.

Loveny Choir present their annual Gala Concert

LOVENY'S popular annual Gala Concert will be held this year on Saturday 16th April, starting at 7.30pm. The Gala Concert will be an extra-special event, as the choir are celebrating their 40th anniversary.

With that in mind, the venue has moved from its traditional Liskeard setting to the choir's home village of St Neust.

We are lucky of Loveny as being a 'young' choir (well, we feel young anyway), so we have invited as our special guests, the second oldest male choir in Cornwall - the famous Mousehole Choir - which was raised in 1909, to sing carols at 7.30pm, the traditional beginnings of Loveny.

So our friends will be able to enjoy the sound of around 140 years of choral tradition, and will be able to judge if regional ensembles differ in the opposite ends of the county. Certainly both choirs will want to show themselves at their best, so whoever they sing those who secure a seat in the church of St. Neust will be the envy of those who were not so lucky. Mousehole now has a membership of around 80 and has a proud history of achievements.

competing successfully at various festivals, including over 100 occasions, and being the very first Cornish choir to feature on television in 1956 - most recently appearing on ITV's 'Sunday Night' for Christmas 2010.

To lower the sound of all these male voices, Loveny has invited two soloists from the far West to entertain us: Jenna and Matheona Matthews from Heamoor, Penzance. When Loveny sang recently at Hagle Church, both girls had the great artists and quite delighted all Loveny chorists. A rapid and popular decision was made to bring them to St Neust to sing one-on-one with their delightful gospel singing. The visual aspect of the concert will be enhanced by both choirs being able to show themselves to the best advantage, by making use of Loveny's grand new staging, for which we are most grateful. Tickets that may be obtained from any chorists on the door, or in advance from Frank and Lyn Lewis on 01989 70047.
